Benchmark: S&P 500 - Total Return

Creation Date: 14-Jul-2022

Inception Date: 01-Jan-2021

Composite Description: The MFS Total Return Value Equity Composite includes all discretionary portfolios managed to the MFS Total Return Value Equity strategy. The strategy seeks to provide long-term growth of capital through investment in a portfolio of primarily large-capitalization, high quality, undervalued (compared to their perceived worth or value companies) U.S. stocks. In addition, the strategy will focus on downside risk management and has a preference for companies that pay dividends. Stock markets and investments in individual stocks are volatile and can decline significantly in response to or investor perception of, issuer, market, economic, industry, political, regulatory, geopolitical, and other conditions. The portfolio's investments can continue to be undervalued for long periods of time, not realize their expected value, and be more volatile than the stock market in general.

Total Gross of fee returns in USD (includes both capital appreciation and reinvestment of income) are net of transaction costs, withholding taxes and direct expenses, but before management fees, custody and other indirect expenses. Typical separate accounts utilize 4:00 PM (London Time) foreign exchange rates; retail products will use rates deemed most appropriate for daily NAV per share calculations. The possibility exists for performance dispersion between otherwise similarly managed accounts and also with the benchmark.

Net of fee returns presented in this table are gross of fee returns reduced by management fees and performance fees if applicable (actual fees). For certain accounts where the actual fees are unavailable, the maximum applicable annual institutional separate account fees were applied.

Total returns of the benchmark are provided for each period depicted, expressed in USD. Source of Benchmark Performance: FACTSET ®.

S&P 500 - Total Return - a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 widely held equity securities, designed to measure broad U.S. equity performance.

Composite Dispersion is measured by the asset-weighted standard deviation of gross of fees account returns for all accounts in the composite for the full period. For composites containing less than six accounts for the full period, dispersion is deemed not meaningful and is not presented. The three-year annualized ex post standard deviation measures the variability of the gross of fees composite returns and the benchmark returns over the preceding 36-month period.
