Philosophy

It has been demonstrated over time that valuation is one of the most important drivers of stock price performance. This underlying belief is fundamental to our disciplined valuation approach when evaluating all potential investment opportunities for the MFS Large Cap Value portfolio. We also believe that:

- Durability of some businesses and the duration of high returns are often underappreciated
- Applying a disciplined valuation framework in all environments can be a critical source of downside risk mitigation and alpha generation
- Owning durable businesses with strong returns bought at attractive valuations with a long-term horizon may allow for compounding over time

Past performance is not a reliable indicator for future results. All financial investments involve an element of risk. The value of investments may rise and fall so you may get back less than originally invested. Investors should consider the risks, including lower returns, related to currency movements between their investing currency and the portfolio's base currency, if different.

Performance for periods less than one year are not annualized.

Total Gross of fee returns in USD (includes both capital appreciation and reinvestment of income) are net of transaction costs, withholding taxes and direct expenses, but before management fees, custody and other indirect expenses. Typical separate accounts utilize 4:00 PM (London Time) foreign exchange rates; retail products will use rates deemed most appropriate for daily NAV per share calculations. The possibility exists for performance dispersion between otherwise similarly managed accounts and also with the benchmark.

Net of fee returns presented in this table are gross of fee returns reduced by management fees and performance fees if applicable (actual fees). For certain accounts where the actual fees are unavailable, the maximum applicable annual institutional separate account fees were applied. Total returns of the benchmark are provided for each period depicted, expressed in USD. Source of Benchmark Performance: FACTSET ®.

Russell 1000® Value - Total Return - constructed to provide a comprehensive barometer for the value securities in the large-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. Companies in this index generally have lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values.

Composite Dispersion is measured by the asset-weighted standard deviation of gross of fees account returns for all accounts in the composite for the full period. For composites containing less than six accounts for the full period, dispersion is deemed not meaningful and is not presented. The three-year annualized ex post standard deviation measures the variability of the gross of fees composite returns and the benchmark returns over the preceding 36month period.

The composite asset minimum changed from 2MM USD to 1MM USD effective 1-Nov-2022.
